A vision for innovation, growth and sustainability.

Going green appears to be the guiding principle for many companies choosing sustainable packaging for their goods.

Sustainability is fundamental to our operations because it pervades everything we do. The sustainability impact test applies to all business decisions and actions, from our core strategy to even the smallest ones. We have started along the path to sustained growth due to our innovative portfolio and our optimised platforms and procedures. Innovation, consumer-centeredness and sustainability will all be crucial considerations for growth over the next few years.

The consumers are preferring plastic furniture over conventional wooden or metal furniture due to the rising demand for affordable, lightweight, and durable plastic furniture in a variety of end-use sectors. The plastic furniture industry helps preserve forests since it saves trees from being cut down. As part of our environmental propaganda, we are utilising recycled products to our benefit. Avro has started out on a mission to create a "Sustainable business" in order to pioneer the use of "Regenerated" polymers as opposed to "Virgin" polymers, which is a significant Raw Material necessary for the creation of plastic moulded furniture. For every kilogramme of recycled plastic used, it is estimated that 2.5 kg less greenhouse gases (GHG) that contribute to climate change are produced. The company is advancing the circular economy by collecting, upcycling, and creating final products from HDPE, LDPE, and PP plastic—some of the most frequently used plastics in India for both private use and commercial sale.

To address some of the highest emitting sectors of the economy, the transition to a lower-emission future necessitates numerous solutions that may be put into place on a large scale. We are concentrating on this area while drawing on our past success in overcoming significant, complicated problems. We continuously innovate and adopt sector-leading technology to create energy resources with fewer emissions in a safe manner, allowing us to reliably and inexpensively meet the basic requirements of people all around the world.

In order to advance sustainability in general and specifically as it applies to our value chains, we are actively involved in a number of environmental policies. Additionally, we carry out a variety of projects, frequently in collaboration with partners, to advance circularity in the economy or enhance supply chain sustainability

Another promising area is Recycling, but for it to be successful, community involvement is required.

Leveraging the innovation process, the Company has started using plastic waste and, within the first quarter of the financial year 2022–2023, outsourced the production of more than 300 MT of regenerated polymers, which it would progressively increase to 500 MT per month in the following year. During FY 2022–2023, it is intended to use regeneration to meet the bulk of the yearly polymer requirement. The company is moving toward the new business model by gathering, upcycling, and creating end products from HDPE, LDPE, and PP plastic, some of the most commonly used plastics in India for both personal use and commercial sale.

By minimising waste and air, water, and soil emissions, we operate our manufacturing plants responsibly and reduce any adverse effects on the environment. There is absolutely no water waste and no material waste as a consequence of the manufacturing process. The business uses a fully integrated production process, and no emissions are released that would harm the environment. To help create the world of tomorrow even better than the one we live in today, we are changing everything we do, the way we do it, and our interactions with all of our stakeholders.

Sustainability has elevated to a strategic priority for our organisations due to growing worries about climate change and environmental deterioration.

Transforming Waste into Valuable Assets.

Plastic recycling is either re-purposed into moulded furniture or refined into market-ready plastic granules.

AVRO with 'informal recyclers' is advancing the 'scrap to product' Circular Economy, striving to produce recycled plastic granules that match the quality of virgin plastics.

Avro's business is deeply rooted in Environmental, Social, and Financial Sustainability. Consistently prioritizing Quality, Reliability, and Sustainability. These core values shape every facet of their business operations.

Their unwavering dedication to Quality, Reliability, and Sustainability is evident in their continuous investment in advancing sustainability measures. They aren't just following the trend; they're actively shaping and nurturing it.

AVRO aims to lead the Circular Economy; AVRO is set to empower multinational giants to opt for recycled plastics over virgin materials for their primary products and packaging. This isn't just a business move; it's a step towards a sustainable future.

Avro's innovative circular production model significantly diminishes the waste produced by communities, which typically accumulates in landfills or finds its way into rivers and oceans. By transforming and re-introducing waste materials back into the production cycle, Avro not only conserves valuable resources but also minimizes environmental harm.

Furthermore, Avro promotes conscious consumption and production by decreasing reliance on non-renewable virgin plastics. By substituting just one kilogram of virgin plastic with its recycled variant, Avro contributes to a remarkable reduction of 2.5 kilograms in greenhouse gas emissions, underlining their commitment to a healthier planet.

Dear Stakeholders,

As I reflect on the accomplishments of FY23, a sense of pride overwhelms me regarding the remarkable strides we've achieved in the realms of plastic recycling, circular economy, and sustainability. Avro India Limited (Avro) remains steadfast in its commitment to producing top-notch, enduring products, which has firmly positioned us as frontrunners among market competitors. Our production protocols are meticulously designed not only to ensure superior quality but also to leave behind zero emissions, material waste, and water waste. This speaks volumes about our dedicated environmental stewardship.

Our journey so far has been nothing short of impressive, and this remarkable progress has been made possible through the unwavering support of our devoted customers, steadfast investors, and dedicated employees. Their ceaseless commitment to realizing the company's vision has transformed it into a resounding success.

A pivotal force shaping the future of the plastic furniture market is the ongoing advancements in engineering plastic recycling. We take immense pride in leading the industry by consistently introducing innovative materials and designs for plastic furniture, capitalizing on lucrative sales opportunities. Avro takes the lead in establishing a "Sustainable Business" model through the pioneering use of "Regenerated" polymers. It's worth noting that each kilogram of regenerated plastics saves 2.5 kilograms of Greenhouse Gas (GHG) emissions, making a significant contribution to mitigating climate change. Our company actively promotes the Circular Economy by embracing a sustainable business approach, involving the collection, upcycling, and production of products using HDPE, LDPE, and PP plastics.

Our recycling unit commenced operations on December 22, 2022, with a capacity of 300 metric tons per month. Since then, we have successfully scaled up to a recycling capacity of 500 metric tons per month. Looking ahead, our goal is to further expand our recycling capacity to approximately 2,500 metric tons per month over the next two years. This underscores our commitment to sustainable practices, self-consumption, domestic sales, and earning Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) credits.

"Our recycling journey has begun from a humble 300 metric tons per month, we are committed to reaching 2,500 metric tons monthly within the next two years."

Globally, the plastic furniture market was valued at US$ 13,610 million in 2021 and is expected to reach US$ 22,994 million by 2030, with a CAGR of 6% during 2021-2030. In Indian context, the market is approx 1 billion USD per annum and growing @ 15% year on year compounded owing to affordability, huge purchasing population and rising income levels of BPL families. This surge in the market can also be attributed to rapid urbanization, increased disposable income, growing real estate demand, and a rising preference for sophisticated furniture among consumers. Notably, premium plastic furniture is gaining popularity in both residential and commercial settings due to its enduring durability, aesthetic appeal, and water-resistant properties and all-weather proof, besides lasting for decades and recyclable many number of times.

The past year has reignited hope, and our company has emerged stronger than ever, unwavering in its mission and values. During the fiscal year, our Operational Revenue for FY23 amounted to ₹ 80.01 Crores, marking a robust increase of 23.59%. This stands as a testament to the systematic execution of our strategic plan. Despite challenges arising from supply-side constraints, we achieved substantial growth across all aspects of our business, attaining a commendable and stable EBITDA margin of 10.46% for FY23, up from 8.62% in FY22. EBITDA surged from ₹ 5.62 Crores in FY22 to ₹ 8.61 Crores in FY23. Net Profit escalated by 39.73% to ₹ 4.15 Crores in FY23 from ₹ 2.97 Crores in FY22. The three-year CAGR (FY2021-FY23) for Revenue and Net Profit stood at approximately 24% and 54%, respectively.

"Despite challenges, Avro achieved robust growth in operational revenue, EBITDA margin, and net profit, demonstrating effective execution of its strategic plan."

Our robust network of over 200 distributors empowers us to efficiently serve customers across 6,500+ Pin Codes, spanning 28 States and 8 Union Territories. This extensive reach strengthens our presence on a pan-India scale. Our strategic focus on branding remains pivotal to our marketing efforts. We plan to leverage mediums such as FM Radios, Newspapers, social and digital media and mobile advertisements to enhance our brand visibility.

Throughout the year, we expanded our distribution network beyond North India by adopting competitive pricing strategies and seizing opportunities. To inspire and onboard channel partners, the company consistently organizes Dealer & Distributor Roadshows across various regions of India. Our products are now also available in renowned big box stores like Metro, Lots, Spar and such big box stores, besides on GEM, E-com like Amazon, Flipkart, Jio, Meesho, First cry etc.

By unwaveringly prioritizing the production of high-quality and durable products, Avro continues to establish a commanding presence amid market competitors. Our sense of accomplishment is further amplified by the exceptional levels of customer contentment we deliver. This satisfaction is underpinned by our highly cost-effective pricing structure, which stands approximately 30% to 40% lower than national and established brands. This substantial cost advantage is a direct result of our streamlined operational efficiency without compromising on quality and durability. Avro is the only established company in India to offer 3 years guarantee on its product, owing to exceptional quality, aesthetics and durability.

Looking ahead, we're resolutely set on a path of growth that encompasses various strategic elements. This includes fostering backward integration, upholding rigorous quality assurance, expanding our retail and distribution networks, introducing innovative product lines, and augmenting our production capacity. These initiatives collectively paint a promising picture for the future—a future where Avro continues to lead the charge in the "scrap to product" Circular Economy.

"Avro's strategic initiatives encompass backward integration, quality assurance, retail expansion, innovation, and production capacity augmentation for a promising future."

Management Discussion and Analysis Report

Annexure-F

Global Economic Overview

The projected path of global economic growth is expected to transition from approximately 3.5% in 2022 to around 3.0% in both 2023 and 2024. This shift is influenced by decisions made by central banks regarding their policy rates, which wield significant influence over economic dynamics. Inflation-wise, forecasts suggest a decline from 8.7% in 2022 to 6.8% in 2023, further receding to 5.2% in 2024. It's important to note that gradual adjustments are anticipated in core inflation.

Recent successful resolutions concerning the US debt ceiling and efforts to fortify banking stability have effectively mitigated immediate financial risks. However, there are persistent concerns about potential adverse effects on growth. Factors such as elevated inflation levels and the possibility of unforeseen events like conflicts and extreme weather could trigger modifications in monetary policies. The recovery of China's economy might also witness a slowdown due to challenges within the real estate sector, potentially rippling into other global economies. Conversely, there remains potential for positive outcomes if inflation subsides more rapidly and domestic demand remains robust.

Across diverse economies, key priorities include sustaining a trend of disinflation and safeguarding financial stability. Central banks are advised to continue their emphasis on maintaining price stability and adeptly supervising financial systems. Countries are urged to provide ample liquidity during periods of market strain, establish fiscal reserves to provide targeted support, and enhance economic capacities to facilitate more effective management of inflation.

Outlook

The present global economic forecast suggests a gradual easing in the recovery trajectory, influenced by the combined impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic and geopolitical developments related to Russia's actions in Ukraine. While supply chains exhibit signs of improvement, persistent challenges such as heightened inflation, cautious approaches by central banks, and constrained access to credit remain prevalent.

During the first quarter of 2023, the services sector showcased resilience, whereas the manufacturing sector encountered a weakening trend. This divergence underscores prevailing uncertainties and underscores the restrained pace of productivity growth. The interplay between heightened inflation levels and responses from central banks holds a pivotal role in shaping the economic landscape. Consequently, the global growth trajectory is expected to shift from 3.5% in 2022 to a slightly lower 3.0% in both 2023 and 2024. This adjustment is mainly steered by advanced economies, while emerging markets sustain a certain level of stability, albeit with variations across different regions.

Indian Economic Overview

The Economic Survey of 2022-23 has outlined India's economic prospects, projecting a GDP growth of 6.0-6.8% for the upcoming fiscal year, 2023-24. Notably, the economy is set to achieve a commendable 7% growth by March 2023, building upon an impressive 8.7% increase witnessed in the previous year. This positive trajectory is largely attributed to the strong increase in credit accessibility for Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs), coupled with higher government capital expenditures.

Although there might be a slight overshoot of inflation targets, there is a positive aspect as improvements have been observed in the housing market inventory. The momentum for this growth has been further boosted by a rise in exports, effectively stimulating production. A significant driver has been the notable increase in private consumption, constituting 58.4% of the GDP. This surge has been supported by the revival of contact-intensive services that have experienced a resurgence.

It's essential to recognize that the realm of global trade is heading for a slowdown, transitioning from a 3.5% growth rate observed in 2022 to a more moderate 1.0% in 2023, reflecting the various challenges confronting the global economic landscape.

Outlook

The Economic Survey's projection for the 2023-24 outlook underscores India's impressive recovery post the pandemic. This revival is propelled by strong domestic demand and increased capital investment, fostering a new phase of private sector capital formation. The synergy between this trend and substantial government capital expenditure bodes well for the economy. Structural reforms like the Goods and Services Tax and the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code have enhanced efficiency and transparency. Despite predictions of a global economic slowdown by the IMF and World Trade

Organization, India's growth trajectory remains positive. However, risks such as fluctuating commodity prices, export dynamics, and inflation remain as potential factors influencing the nation's current account balance and currency valuation. The possibility of inflation-induced higher borrowing costs could contribute to a subdued global economic landscape. Encouragingly, India benefits from favorable factors including lower oil prices and an improved current account outlook, thereby enhancing overall external stability.

Overview of the World Economic Outlook Projections

In both 2023 and 2024, India's projected growth rates (6.1% and 6.3%) are significantly higher than those of advanced economies (1.5% and 1.4%). This indicates that India's economy is expected to continue growing at a much faster pace compared to the more mature economies of advanced nations.

Global Plastic Market

The global plastic market had a valuation of USD 609.01 billion in 2022, and it is anticipated to expand at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 4.0% from 2023 to 2030. This growth trajectory is being propelled by increased plastic consumption across diverse sectors such as construction, automotive, and electrical & electronics. Notably, regulations aimed at enhancing fuel efficiency and curbing carbon emissions by reducing vehicle weight are catalyzing the use of plastic as a substitute for metals like aluminium and steel in the production of automotive components.

In addition, the upsurge in construction activities in emerging economies like Brazil, China, India, and Mexico is significantly bolstering the demand for plastics. This surge can be attributed to a rise in foreign investments in domestic construction markets, spurred by eased Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) norms and the demand for improved public and industrial infrastructure.

The United States stands as a noteworthy player in the plastic market, with a demand valued at USD 87.93 billion in 2022. This is largely attributed to the well-established presence of industries such as automotive, aerospace & defense, and electronics. The country's stability, low-risk environment, and robust financial sector have attracted considerable investor interest, fostering expectations of increased infrastructure spending. Consequently, the construction sector in the U.S.

is expected to experience heightened demand for plastics.

The synergy of a growing global population, rapid urbanization, and industrialization in emerging economies has compelled governments to escalate their construction expenditures to meet expanding infrastructure requirements. Particularly, the surge in government construction spending in China and India is poised to drive substantial demand for plastics in infrastructure and construction applications.

The imperative to adhere to stringent regulations addressing the depleting resources and recyclability concerns associated with traditional materials like metals and wood is projected to drive heightened demand for plastics within the construction sector. Applications such as insulation, pipes, cables, floorings, windows, and storage tanks are expected to witness increased plastic usage. Furthermore, the simplicity and ease of installation of polymer fittings, coupled with a diverse palette of color options, contribute to their aesthetic appeal. Notably, plastics exhibit a significantly lower specific gravity compared to metals, resulting in approximately 80% weight reduction and 30% to 50% cost savings in individual components within the automotive and construction industries.

Indian Plastic Market

The Indian plastic market has witnessed remarkable growth potential, fostering the development of local businesses to enhance their technical prowess, meet stringent quality standards, and expand their capabilities across various sectors within the burgeoning plastics industry.

Significant strides have been made in the petrochemical sector, coupled with advancements in plastic machinery, leading to substantial progress in the plastic processing industry. This, in turn, has facilitated plastic processors in augmenting their production capacity to cater to both the domestic and international markets. Presently, the Indian plastic processing landscape encompasses approximately 30,000 units employing techniques such as injection molding, blow molding, extrusion, and calendaring to manufacture a diverse array of products.

Plastic materials have gained increasing prominence across diverse industries, resulting in a swift rise in per capita consumption. Conventional materials are swiftly being supplanted by plastic technology, advanced processing equipment, specialized expertise, and cost-efficient manufacturing. The adeptness in various facets of this industry, combined with innate capabilities, underpins the industry's ability to serve global markets. Over the past few decades, the Indian plastics sector has undergone substantial growth, emerging as one of the nation's pivotal industries with a substantial foundation.

Plastic consumption in India displays noteworthy regional disparities, with Western India accounting for 47%, Northern India for 23%, and Southern India for 21%.

Currently, the plastics industry accommodates around 50,000 establishments, predominantly comprising micro, small, and medium-sized enterprises (MSMEs). These entities collectively contribute INR 3.5 lakh crore (US$ 42.89 Billion) to India's economy and offer employment opportunities to over 50,000 individuals. The nation boasts a plastic recycling rate of 60%, surpassing that of many developed countries. The government's initiatives like "Make in India," "Skill India," "Swachh Bharat," and "Digital India" are propelling plastic production. By 2027, projections anticipate that the plastics industry will amass an annual revenue of INR 10 lakh crore (US$ 122.54 Billion), accompanied by exports amounting to two lakh tonnes.

In the realm of user engagement, the Plastic & Other Furniture market is primed for expansion. By 2027, an estimated 85.2 Million users are expected to participate. This surge highlights a significant upward trajectory, considering that user penetration is projected to escalate from 3.6% in 2023 to an impressive 5.8% by 2027.

Embedded within these trends is the Average Revenue Per User (ARPU), a pivotal metric. Each user's contribution is envisaged to average at US$ 1.08, indicative of the market's potential to yield substantial revenue from its growing user base.

In summary, the Plastic & Other Furniture market is on an upward trajectory, with robust revenue projections and a compelling CAGR. The United States' pivotal role in shaping the market's size is noteworthy, and the projected increase in user engagement suggests a dynamic and promising industry outlook.

"The plastic furniture market was valued at US$ 13,610 million in 2021 and is expected to reach US$ 22,994 million by 2030, with a CAGR of 6% during 2021-2030."

Circular Economy

India has taken significant strides in plastic waste recycling, outperforming even countries like Germany and the US. Reports indicate that India recycles an impressive 60% of its plastic waste, while Germany manages 56% and the US lags behind at just 9%. This commitment to recycling is deeply ingrained in India's cultural fabric and has far-reaching implications for the adoption of circular products and services.

Interestingly, the average lifespan of cars in India is notably longer compared to the US, with vehicles being cherished for around 9 years, while in the US, the norm hovers around 7 to 8 years. This cultural propensity towards longevity not only reflects a sustainable mindset but also opens up a realm of possibilities for the proliferation of circular goods and services. Such an outlook naturally cultivates a thriving market for these sustainable offerings.

Projections also illuminate India's economic ascension on the global stage, poised to secure the position of the world's third-largest economy by 2030, contributing about 8.5% to the global GDP. In light of these numbers, envisioning the Circular Economy soaring to a $4.5 trillion valuation by 2030 instills optimism. Under this scenario, even a modest 1% market share for India would translate into a staggering $45 billion plus opportunity.

However, if India were to mirror its 8.5% contribution to global GDP within the realm of the Circular Economy, the nation could feasibly foster a Circular Economy valued at over $380 billion. This ambitious prospect underscores the transformative power of the Circular Economy in propelling India's growth throughout the forthcoming decades. A captivating side effect of this sustainable surge would be the substantial environmental benefits, including a noteworthy reduction in congestion and pollution levels.

In essence, the potential for harnessing the Circular Economy's momentum resonates as a pivotal force driving India's growth trajectory. This journey, interwoven with economic expansion, promises to yield not only prosperity but also invaluable ecological advantages that resonate for generations.

Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR)

Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) stands as a pivotal policy mechanism, wielding the potential to propel the circular economy forward. By assuming responsibility for the entire lifecycle of a product, EPR significantly curbs the environmental impact of both the product and its packaging, while embodying the principle of "polluter pays," thereby holding producers accountable.

In recent times, EPR has garnered global attention, emerging as a direct response to the escalating menace of plastic pollution, driven particularly by the ubiquity of packaging and single-use plastics. The surge in population growth and rapid urbanization, coupled with the unabated rise in consumption and utilization of disposable products since the 1950s, has triggered an exponential surge in waste generation worldwide. This unrestrained growth in waste output has imposed a significant strain on governments, challenging their ability to manage this mounting challenge effectively.

The objectives of EPR are as follows:

- Integration of environmental costs
- Improved waste management
- Reduction of disposal
- Reduction of burden on municipalities
- Design of environmentally sound products

Opportunities and Threats

Opportunities:

Amidst the prevailing environmental consciousness, the realm of biodegradable plastics production emerges as a realm brimming with potential. This trajectory is significantly propelled by governmental emphasis on safeguarding the environment, coupled with a mounting public awareness of the detrimental repercussions of plastic pollution. In parallel, the allure of recycled plastic is expected to ascend, finding a stronger foothold in the domain of plastic furniture.

Undeterred by the formidable competition posed by the unorganized sector, the company demonstrates an unwavering commitment to extending its reach into uncharted market territories. This tenacity is driven by the pursuit of novel opportunities and is emblematic of the company's resilient spirit in the face of challenges.

With a resolute focus on the industrial sector, the company aspires to carve out a distinctive niche for itself as a pivotal player. This aspiration is anchored in the delivery of high-quality products and the cultivation of robust corporate governance practices. Through this strategic direction, the company endeavors to augment its product portfolio, thereby bolstering its influence and stature within the industry landscape.

Threats:

Navigating through the intricate maze of uncertain government policies and the unpredictable ebbs and flows of market conditions emerges as a substantial challenge. The landscape's inherent volatility demands adept maneuvering to ensure consistent growth.

The relentless march of technological progress, while promising innovation, simultaneously poses a threat. The necessity to remain at the vanguard of technological advancements becomes imperative to stay relevant and competitive.

The swelling tide of competition stands as a formidable adversary. The burgeoning number of players vying for prominence amplifies the pressure to consistently differentiate and excel.

Undoubtedly, the unorganized small-scale sector casts a significant shadow on the horizon. The relentless competition emanating from this sector necessitates strategic agility to counter their impact effectively.

In a realm susceptible to economic fluctuations, the prospect of a stagnation phase or an economic downturn looms large. The convergence of various factors could potentially trigger a slowdown, demanding contingency plans to navigate through such challenging periods.

AVRO recognizes that operating in the business landscape comes with inherent risks that can emanate from various sources, encompassing product distribution, governmental policies, and technological shifts. To ensure its sustained performance over the long term, the company places a paramount emphasis on the identification, analysis, and effective mitigation of these risks through well-suited control measures.

The process of risk identification and assessment remains ongoing, with a commitment to promptly implement appropriate measures to curtail their potential impact. The efficacy of diverse risk reduction measures is subject to periodic evaluation, underlining the company's dedication to refining its risk management strategies. At regular intervals, the Board scrutinizes the entirety of the Risk Management protocol to maintain its relevance and efficacy.

The company operates within the realm of foreign exchange exposure due to its reliance on imported machinery and molds. The volatility in the exchange rate between the US Dollar and the Indian Rupee holds the potential to adversely affect the company's financial status and outcomes.

Furthermore, the company is not immune to the volatility of prices, both for its finished products and the raw materials it employs. The company's approach to managing these risks extends to adept inventory management strategies, often coupled with the judicious allocation of cost increases to the end customer. Additionally, the ongoing pandemic situation introduces a unique set of challenges. The shifts in consumer behaviour and disruptions in production owing to lockdowns or quarantines can significantly impact the demand for the company's offerings.

The company remains resolute in its proactive and proficient handling of risks, as it acknowledges risk as an inherent facet of conducting business. Rigorous and regular evaluations of both internal and external risk factors underscore the company's commitment to vigilance. These risks are in a constant state of flux, both in terms of their potential consequences and the probability of occurrence. Thus, the company consistently monitors the external landscape for emergent threats and gauges their potential ramifications on overarching corporate objectives. The Board of Directors plays a pivotal role in overseeing and evaluating the company's all-encompassing risk management framework.

The company's robust approach encompasses the assessment and management of an array of risks that span the spectrum. These encompass competition risk, concerns related to safety and sustainability, adherence to compliance norms, the integrity of information security, the availability of crucial raw materials, and the intricate dynamics posed by the pandemic. AVRO's commitment to proactive risk management is deeply ingrained in its operational ethos, ensuring a resilient and adaptable stance in the face of an ever-evolving business landscape.

Internal Control Systems and Their Adequacy

The company has established a comprehensive system of internal controls that are well-suited to the company's size and business nature. These internal control mechanisms serve a crucial purpose: to optimize the efficiency of business operations, protect the company's valuable assets, ensure adherence to established policies and procedures, and to proactively identify and prevent errors and fraudulent activities. Additionally, they play a pivotal role in ensuring compliance with relevant laws and regulations while also upholding the accuracy and dependability of financial reporting and statements. Information Other than the Standalone Financial Statements and Auditor's Report thereon

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation of the other information. The other information comprises the Corporate Governance report, and the information included in the Annual Report including annexures, Management Discussion and Analysis and other Company related information but does not include the standalone financial statements and our auditors' report which are expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report

Our opinion on the Standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not and will not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above when it becomes available and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When we read the other information, if we conclude that there is material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance and appropriate actions, if required.

Responsibilities of management and those charged with governance for the Standalone Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors are responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, total comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including Ind AS prescribed under Section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements, that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so. The Board of Directors is also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Companies Act, 2013, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the standalone financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

B. Basis of preparation of Financial Statements:

1. Statement of Compliance

The financial statements are prepared on going concern basis following accrual system of accounting and comply with the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) prescribed under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 as amended, and other relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 2013. Financial statements for the year ended 31st March, 2022 are first Ind AS Financial Statements and are covered by Ind AS 101, First-time adoption of Indian Accounting Standards. The transition to Ind AS has been carried out from the accounting principles generally accepted in India (“Indian GAAP”) which is considered as the “Previous GAAP” for purposes of Ind AS 101. The date of transition to Ind AS is 1st April, 2020.

These financial statements were approved for issue by the Board of Directors in its meeting held on May 23, 2023.

2. Basis of measurement

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for:

- Certain financial assets and liabilities (including derivative instruments) that are measured at fair value; and
- Plan assets in the case of employees defined benefit plans that are measured at fair value.

The methods used to measure fair values are discussed in notes to the financial statements.

Historical cost is the amount of cash or cash equivalents paid or the fair value of the consideration given to acquire assets at the time of their acquisition or the amount of proceeds received in exchange for the obligation, or at the amounts of cash or cash equivalents expected to be paid to satisfy the liability in the normal course of business. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

3. Functional and presentation currency:

These financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees, which is the Company’s functional currency. All amounts have been rounded off to two decimal places to the nearest lakh, unless otherwise indicated.

4. Current and non-current classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current/non-current classification.

An asset is classified as current when it is:

- Expected to be realized or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle;
- Held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- Expected to be realized within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is classified as current when:

- It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle;
- It is held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- There is no unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other liabilities are classified as non-current.

Deferred tax assets/liabilities are classified as non-current.

Assets and liabilities are classified between current and non-current considering 12 months period as normal operating cycle.

C. Use of Estimates and Judgements:

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with Ind AS requires use of estimates and assumptions for some items, which might have an effect on their recognition and measurement in the balance sheet and statement of profit and loss. The actual amounts realised may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and assumptions are required in particular for:

Determination of the estimated useful lives of Property Plant and Equipment

Useful lives of property plant and equipment are based on the life prescribed in Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013. In cases, where the useful lives are different from that prescribed in Schedule II for plant and machinery and dies and molds, they are based on technical advice, taking into account the nature of the asset, the estimated usage of the asset, the operating conditions of the asset, past history of replacement, anticipated technological changes, manufacturers' warranties and maintenance support.

Recognition and measurement of defined benefit obligations

The obligation arising from defined benefit plan is determined on the basis of actuarial assumptions. Key actuarial assumptions include discount rate, trends in salary escalation, actuarial rates and life expectancy. The discount rate is determined by reference to market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds. The period to maturity of the underlying bonds correspond to the probable maturity of the post-employment benefit obligations.

Recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences of temporary differences between the carrying values of assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases, and unutilized business loss and depreciation carry-forwards and tax credits. Deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable income will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, unused tax losses, depreciation carry-forwards and unused tax credits could be utilized.

Recognition and measurement of other provisions

The recognition and measurement of other provisions are based on the assessment of the probability of an outflow of resources, and on past experience and circumstances known at the balance sheet date. The actual outflow of resources at a future date may therefore vary from the amount included in other provisions.

Discounting of long-term financial assets / liabilities

All financial assets / liabilities are required to be measured at fair value on initial recognition. In case of financial liabilities / assets which are required to subsequently be measured at amortised cost, interest is accrued using the effective interest method.

Segment reporting

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the Chief Operating Decision Maker. The Company prepares its segment information in conformity with the accounting policies adopted for preparing and presenting the financial statements of the Company as a whole.

Fair value of financial instruments

Derivatives are carried at fair value. Derivatives includes foreign currency forward contracts and interest rate swaps. Fair value of foreign currency forward contracts is determined using the fair value reports provided by respective bankers. Fair value of interest rate swaps is determined with respect to current market rate of interest.

Measurement of fair values

The Company's accounting policies and disclosures require the measurement of fair values for financial instruments.

The Company has an established control framework with respect to the measurement of fair values. The management regularly reviews significant unobservable inputs and valuation adjustments. If third party information, such as broker quotes or pricing services, is used to measure fair values, then the management assesses the evidence obtained from the third parties to support the conclusion that such valuations meet the requirements of Ind AS, including the level in the fair value hierarchy in which such valuations should be classified.

When measuring the fair value of a financial asset or a financial liability, the Company uses observable market data as far as possible. Fair values are categorised into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows:

Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e., as prices) or indirectly (i.e., derived from prices).

Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

If the inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or a liability fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy, then the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety in the same level of the fair value hierarchy as the lowest level input that is significant to the entire measurement.

Assets held for sale

Significant judgment is required to apply the accounting of non-current assets held for sale under Ind AS 105 - 'Non-current assets held for sale and discontinued operations'. In assessing the applicability, management has exercised judgment to evaluate the availability of the asset for immediate sale, management's commitment for the sale and probability of sale within one year to conclude if their carrying amount will be recovered principally through a sale transaction rather than through continuing use.

Provisions and contingencies

The assessments undertaken in recognizing provisions and contingencies have been made in accordance with Ind AS 37-'Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets'. The evaluation of the likelihood of the contingent events require best judgment by management regarding the probability of exposure to potential loss. Should circumstances change following unforeseeable developments, this likelihood could alter.

Income taxes

Significant estimates are involved in determining the provision for current and deferred tax, including amount expected to be paid/recovered for uncertain tax positions.

D. Standards/amendments issued but not yet effective

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs ,vide notification dated 31 March 2023, has notified Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2023 which amends certain Indian Accounting Standards which are effective 1 April 2023. Below is a summary of such amendments:

Ind AS 1 - Presentation of Financial Statements - This amendment requires the entities to disclose their material accounting policies rather than their significant accounting policies.

Ind AS 8 - Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors - This amendment has introduced a definition of 'accounting estimates' and included amendments to Ind AS 8 to help entities distinguish changes in accounting policies from changes in accounting estimates.

Ind AS 12 - Income Taxes - This amendment has narrowed the scope of the initial recognition exemption so that it does not apply to transactions that give rise to equal and offsetting temporary differences.

The Company has evaluated the above amendments and the impact of the same on the financial statements is not material.

E. Significant accounting policies

A summary of the significant accounting policies applied in the preparation of the financial statements are as given below. These accounting policies have been applied consistently to all periods presented in the financial statements.

1. Property, plant and equipment:

1.1 Recognition and measurement

Items of property, plant and equipment are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

The cost of an item of property, plant and equipment comprises:

Its purchase price, including import duties and non-refundable purchase taxes, after deducting trade discounts and rebates.

Any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management.

The initial estimate of the costs of dismantling and removing the item and restoring the site on which it is located, the obligation for which an entity incurs either when the item is acquired or as a consequence of having used the item during a particular period for purposes other than to produce inventories during that period.

Income and expenses related to the incidental operations, not necessary to bring the item to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management, are recognised in profit or loss.

Items such as spare parts, stand-by equipment's and servicing that meets the definition of property, plant and equipment are capitalised at cost and depreciated over the useful life.

If significant parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, then they are accounted and depreciated for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment.

Any gain or loss on disposal of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognised in profit or loss.

1.2 Subsequent expenditure

Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only if it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Company.

1.3. Decommissioning costs

The present value of the expected cost for the decommissioning of the asset after its use is included in the cost of the respective asset if the recognition criteria for a provision are met

1.4. De-recognition

Property, plant and equipment is derecognized when no future economic benefits are expected from their use or upon their disposal. Gains and losses on de-recognition of an item of property, plant and equipment are determined as the difference between sale proceeds from disposal, if any, and the carrying amount of property, plant and equipment and are recognized in the statement of profit and loss. In circumstance, where an item of property, plant and equipment is abandoned, the net carrying cost relating to the property, plant and equipment is written off in the same period.

1.5 Depreciation/Amortization

Depreciation on property plant and equipment is provided on the written down value method over the useful lives of assets as specified in Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013. Management believes that these useful lives best represent the period over which management expects to use these assets.

Useful life of property plant and equipment are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

Cost of leasehold land is not amortised over the period of lease because it is perpetual in nature.

Depreciation on addition to assets or on sale / discardment of assets, is calculated pro rata from the date of such addition or upto the date of such sale/ discardment, as the case may be;

Assets like mobile phones, telephone instruments, etc. are fully depreciated in the year of purchase/acquisition;

Individual assets except assets given on lease acquired for less than ₹ 15,000/- are depreciated entirely in the year of acquisition.

2. Capital work-in-progress

Cost incurred for property, plant and equipment that are not ready for their intended use as on the reporting date, is classified under capital work- in-progress. The cost of self-constructed assets includes the cost of materials & direct labour, any other costs directly attributable to bringing the assets to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management and the borrowing costs attributable to the acquisition or construction of qualifying asset. Expenses directly attributable to construction of property, plant and equipment incurred till they are ready for their intended use are identified and allocated on a systematic basis on the cost of related assets. Deposit works/cost plus contracts are accounted for on the basis of statements of account received from the contractors. Unsettled liabilities for price variation/exchange rate variation in case of contracts are accounted for on estimated basis as per terms of the contracts

3. Intangible Assets

3.1. Recognition and measurement

Intangible assets, which are acquired by the Company and have finite useful lives are measured at cost less accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses.

All other expenditure, including expenditure on internally generated goodwill and brands, is recognised in profit or loss as incurred.

3.2. Subsequent expenditure

Subsequent expenditure is recognized as an increase in the carrying amount of the asset when it is probable that future economic benefits deriving from the cost incurred will flow to the enterprise and the cost of the item can be measured reliably

3.3 Amortisation:

Software (Intangible assets) are amortised over their estimated useful lives on a straight-line basis but not exceeding the period of 60 months.

Useful life of Intangible assets is reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

4. Financial Instruments:

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity. Financial instruments also include derivative contracts such as foreign currency foreign exchange forward contracts and, interest rate swaps and currency options; and embedded derivatives in the host contract.

Financial instruments also covers contracts to buy or sell a non-financial item that can be settled net in cash or another financial instrument, or by exchanging financial instruments, as if the contracts were financial instruments, with the exception of contracts that were entered into and continue to be held for the purpose of the receipt or delivery of a non-financial item in accordance with the entity's expected purchase, sale or usage requirements.

Derivatives are currently recognized at fair value on the date on which the derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured to their fair value at the end of each reporting period.

5. Cash Flow Hedges

The Company uses derivative financial instrument such as forward contracts and cross currency interest rate swaps to hedge its foreign currency risks and interest rate risks. Derivative financial instruments are initially recognised at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently remeasured at fair value. Derivatives are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative.

Any gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of derivatives are taken directly to the Statement of Profit and Loss, except for the effective portion of cash flow hedge, which is recognised in Other Comprehensive Income and accumulated in Cash Flow Hedge Reserve included in the Reserves and Surplus while any ineffective portion is recognised immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

For the purpose of hedge accounting, hedges are classified as:

Fair value hedges when hedging the exposure to changes in the fair value of a recognised asset or liability.

Cash flow hedges when hedging exposure to variability in cash flows that is either attributable to particular risk associated with a recognised asset or liability.

At the inception of a hedge relationship, the Company formally designates and documents the hedge relationship to which the Company wishes to apply hedge accounting and the risk management objective and strategy for undertaking the hedge. The documentation includes identification of the hedging instrument, the hedged item or transaction, the nature of the risk being hedged and how the entity will assess the effectiveness of changes in the hedging instrument's fair value in offsetting the exposure to changes in the hedged item's fair value or cash flows attributable to the hedged risk. Such hedges are expected to be highly effective in achieving offsetting changes in fair value or cash flows and are assessed on an ongoing basis to determine that they actually have been highly effective throughout the financial reporting periods for which they were designated.

Hedge accounting is discontinued from the last testing date when the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated, or exercised, or no longer qualifies for hedge accounting. Cumulative gain or loss on such hedging instrument recognised in Cash Flow Hedge Reserve is retained there until the forecasted transaction occurs. If a hedged transaction is no longer expected to occur, the net cumulative gain or loss recognised in Cash Flow Hedge Reserve is transferred to Statement of Profit and Loss for the year.

6. Financial instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity. The Company recognizes a financial asset or a financial liability only when it becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

6.1 Financial Assets

Classification

The Company shall classify financial assets as subsequently measured at amortised cost, fair value through other comprehensive income or fair value through profit or loss on the basis of its business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial asset.

Initial recognition and measurement

All financial assets are recognised initially at fair value plus, in the case of financial assets not recorded at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place (regular way trades) are recognised on the trade date, i.e., the date that the Company commits to purchase or sell the asset.

Debt instruments at amortised cost

A 'debt instrument' is measured at the amortised cost if both the following conditions are met:

- a) The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows, and
- b) Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included in finance income in the profit or loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognised in the profit or loss. This category generally applies to trade and other receivables.

Equity investments

All equity investments in scope of Ind-AS 109 are measured at fair value. Equity instruments which are held for trading are classified as at FVTPL. For all other equity instruments, the Company decides to classify the same either as at FVOCI or FVTPL. The Company makes such election on an instrument-by-instrument basis. The classification is made on initial recognition and is irrevocable.

If the Company decides to classify an equity instrument as FVOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, excluding dividends, are recognized in the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to profit and loss, even on sale of investment. However, the Company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity.

Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the profit and loss.

Derecognition

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a Company of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognised (i.e. removed from the Company's balance sheet) when:

- The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or

- The Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement; and either (a) the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates if and to what extent it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership.

When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the Company continues to recognise the transferred asset to the extent of the Company's continuing involvement. In that case, the Company also recognises an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Company has retained.

Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Company could be required to repay.

Impairment of financial assets

In accordance with Ind-AS 109, the Company applies expected credit loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on the following financial assets and credit risk exposure:

- a) Financial assets that are debt instruments, and are measured at amortised cost e.g., loans, debt securities, deposits, and bank balance.

- b) Trade receivables - The application of simplified approach does not require the Company to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition. Trade receivables are tested for impairment on a specific basis after considering the sanctioned credit limits, security like letters of credit, security deposit collected etc. and expectations about future cash flows.

6.2 Financial liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, loans and borrowings, payables, or as derivatives designated as hedging instruments in an effective hedge, as appropriate.

All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable and incremental transaction cost.

Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included as finance costs in the statement of profit and loss.

The Company's financial liabilities include trade and other payables, loans and borrowings including bank overdrafts and derivative financial instruments. Borrowings are measured at amortised cost.

Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

6.3. Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

7. Investment Property

Investment properties are properties held to earn rental or for capital appreciation or for both and are not intended to be used in the operations of the Company. Investment properties are measured initially at its cost, including transaction costs. Cost of investment property comprises its purchase price and any directly attributable expenditure. Investment properties are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Subsequent expenditure is capitalized to the asset's carrying amount only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. Repairs and maintenance costs are expensed when incurred. Investment properties are depreciated / amortised considering the significant accounting policy no.1.5. Leasehold Land (Perpetual in nature) and Properties under construction are not depreciated.

A property shall be transferred to or from investment property when, and only when, there is change in use. A change in use occurs when the property meets, or ceases to meet the definition of investment property and there is evidence of the change in use.

An investment property is derecognized upon disposal or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefits are expected from the disposal. Any gain or loss arising on de-recognition of the property (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in profit or loss in the period in which the property is derecognized.

8. Valuation of Inventories:

Inventories includes raw material, work-in-progress, finished goods, store & spare, packing material are valued at lower of cost and net realizable value. Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

Raw material and components: Cost includes cost of purchases and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined using first in first out (FIFO) basis.

Finished Goods: Cost includes cost of direct material, labor, other direct cost and a proportion of fixed manufacturing overhead allocated based on the normal operating capacity but excluding borrowing cost. Cost is determined on weighted average cost basis.

Store, spare parts, packing material etc.: Cost is determined on FIFO basis.

Inter divisional transfers are valued at works/factory costs of the transferor unit/ division, plus transport and other charges.

9. Employee Benefits:

9.1 Short Term Employee Benefits

All employee benefits payable within twelve months of rendering the service are recognised in the period in which the employee renders the related service.

Post Employment / Retirement Benefits

Contribution to Defined Contribution Plans such as Provident Fund, Employees' State Insurance Corporation, etc., are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred.

Defined Benefit Plans – The present value of the obligation under such plans is determined based on an actuarial valuation by an independent actuary at the end of each year, using the Projected Unit Credit Method. In the case of gratuity, which is funded, the fair value of the plan assets is reduced from the gross obligation under the defined benefit plans, to recognise the obligation on net basis.

Remeasurement of net defined benefit liability, which comprises actuarial gains and losses and the return on plan assets (excluding interest) and the effect of the asset ceiling (if any excluding interest), are recognized immediately in other comprehensive income.

9.2 Other Long Term Employee Benefits

Compensated Absences

Accumulated compensated absences, which are expected to be availed or encashed within 12 months from the end of the year-end are treated as short term employee benefits. The obligation towards the same is measured at the expected cost of accumulating compensated absences as the additional amount expected to be paid as a result of the unused entitlement as at the year-end. Accumulated compensated absences, which are expected to be availed or encashed beyond 12 months from the end of the year- end are treated as other long-term employee benefits. The Company's liability is actuarially determined (using the Projected Unit Credit method) at the end of each year. Actuarial losses/ gains are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the year in which they arise.

10. Foreign Exchange Transactions:

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into the respective functional currencies of the Company at the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate at the reporting date. Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate when the fair value was determined. Foreign currency differences are generally recognised in profit or loss. Non-monetary items that are measured based on historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rate as at the date of the transaction.

11. Borrowing Costs:

Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or construction of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use are capitalised as part of the cost of that asset till the date it is ready for its intended use or sale. Income earned on temporary investment made out of the borrowings pending utilization for expenditure on the qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalization.

Capitalization of borrowing costs ceases when substantially all the activities necessary to prepare the qualifying assets for their intended use are complete.

Other borrowing costs are recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

12. Revenue Recognition:

The Company derives revenues primarily from sale of manufactured goods, traded goods and related services.

Revenue is recognised on satisfaction of performance obligation upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration the Company expects to receive in exchange for those products or services. The performance obligations in our contracts are fulfilled at the time of dispatch, delivery or upon formal customer acceptance depending on customer terms.

Revenue is measured based on transaction price which is fair value of the consideration received or receivable, after deduction of any discounts, sales incentives / schemes and any taxes or duties collected on behalf of the government such as goods and services tax, etc. Accumulated experience is used to estimate the provision for such discounts and sales incentives / schemes. Revenue is only recognised to the extent that it is highly probable a significant reversal will not occur.

The Company recognises provision for sales return, based on the historical results, measured on net basis of the margin of the sale. An estimate is made of goods that will be returned and a liability is recognised for this amount using a best estimate based on accumulated experience.

Dividend income is recognized in statement of profit and loss only when the right to receive payment is established.

Interest income is recognized using the effective interest rate method.

13. Leases:

At the inception it is assessed, whether a contract is a lease or contains a lease. A contract is a lease or contains a lease if it conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, for a period of time, in exchange for consideration. If lease asset held land & building are perpetual in nature, than it will be treated as Land & Building.

To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, Company assesses whether the contract involves the use of an identified asset. Use may be specified explicitly or implicitly.

- Use should be physically distinct or represent substantially all of the capacity of a physically distinct asset.
- If the supplier has a substantive substitution right, then the asset is not identified.
- Company has the right to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset throughout the period of use
- Company has the right to direct the use of the asset.
- In cases where the usage of the asset is predetermined, the right to direct the use of the asset is determined when Company has the right to use the asset or Company designed the asset in a way that predetermines how and for what purpose it will be used.

At the commencement or modification of a contract, that contains a lease component, Company allocates the consideration in the contract, to each lease component, on the basis of its relative standalone prices. For leases of property, it is elected not to separate non-lease components and account for the lease and non-lease components as a single lease component.

Leasehold land, in the opinion of the management it is perpetual in nature than its treated as freehold land.

As a Lessee:

Company recognizes a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at the lease commencement date.

Right-Of-Use Asset (ROU):

The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost. Cost comprises of the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, any initial direct costs incurred by the lessee, an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the underlying asset or the site on which it is located less any lease incentives received.

After the commencement date, a lessee shall measure the right-of-use asset applying cost model, which is Cost less any accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses and also adjusted for certain re-measurements of the lease liability.

Right-of-use asset is depreciated using straight-line method from the commencement date to the end of the lease term. If the lease transfers the ownership of the underlying asset to the Company at the end of the lease term or the cost of the right-of-use asset reflects Company will exercise the purchase option, ROU will be depreciated over the useful life of the underlying asset, which is determined based on the same basis as property, plant and equipment.

Lease liability:

Lease liability is initially measured at the present value of lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date. Discounting is done using the implicit interest rate in the lease, if that rate cannot be readily determined, then using Company's incremental borrowing rate. Incremental borrowing rate is determined based on entity's borrowing rate adjusted for terms of the lease and type of the asset leased.

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability comprises of fixed payments (including in substance fixed payments), variable lease payments that depends on an index or a rate, initially measured using the index or rate at the commencement date, amount expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee, the exercise price under a purchase option that the Company is reasonably certain to exercise, lease payments in an optional renewal period if the Company is reasonably certain to exercise an extension option, and penalties for early termination of a lease unless the Company is reasonably certain not to terminate early.

Lease liability is measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Lease liability is re-measured when there is a change in the lease term, a change in its assessment of whether it will exercise a purchase, extension or termination option or a revised in-substance fixed lease payment, a change in the amounts expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee and a change in future lease payments arising from change in an index or rate.

When the lease liability is re-measured, corresponding adjustment is made to the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset. If the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset has been reduced to zero it will be recorded in statement of profit and loss.

Right-of-use asset is presented under "Property Plant and Equipment" and lease liabilities are presented under "Financial liabilities" in the balance sheet.

Company has elected not to recognise right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for short-term leases. The lease payments associated with these leases are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Lessor

At the commencement or modification of a contract, that contains a lease component, Company allocates the consideration in the contract, to each lease component, on the basis of its relative standalone prices.

At the inception of the lease, it is determined whether it is a finance lease or an operating lease. If the lease transfers substantially all of the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the underlying asset, then it is a financial lease, otherwise it is an operating lease.

If the lease arrangement contains lease and non-lease components, then the consideration in the contract is allocated using the principles of Ind AS 115. The Company tests for the impairment losses at the year end. Payment received under operating lease is recognised as income on straight line basis, over the lease term.

The accounting policies applicable to the Company as a lessor, in the comparative period, were not different from Ind AS 116.

14. Impairment of non-financial assets

The carrying values of assets/cash generating units at each balance sheet date are reviewed for impairment if any indication of impairment exists. If the carrying amount of the assets exceed the estimated recoverable amount, an impairment is recognised for such excess amount.

The recoverable amount is the greater of the net selling price and their value in use. Value in use is arrived at by discounting the future cash flows to their present value based on an appropriate discount factor.

When there is indication that an impairment loss recognised for an asset (other than a revalued asset) in earlier accounting periods which no longer exists or may have decreased, such reversal of impairment loss is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss, to the extent the amount was previously charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss. In case of revalued assets, such reversal is not recognised.

15. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand, INR Value of Foreign Currency in hand and short-term deposits with remaining maturity of three months or less, which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

For the purpose of the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and short-term deposits, as defined above, net of outstanding bank overdrafts as they are considered an integral part of the Company's cash management.

16. Taxation:

Income tax expense comprises current and deferred tax. It is recognised in profit or loss except to the extent that it relates to a business combination, or items recognised directly in equity or in OCI.

16.1 Current tax

Current tax comprises the expected tax payable or receivable on the taxable income or loss for the year and any adjustment to the tax payable or receivable in respect of previous years. It is measured using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. Current tax also includes any tax arising from dividends.

Current tax assets and liabilities are offset only if, the Company:

- a) has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts; and

- b) intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Uncertain Tax position:

Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate. The provision is estimated based on one of two methods, the expected value method (the sum of the probability weighted amounts in a range of possible outcomes) or the single most likely amount method, depending on which is expected to better predict the resolution of the uncertainty.

16.2 Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for taxation purposes. Deferred tax is not recognised for:

- temporary differences on the initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and that affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss;
- temporary differences related to investments in subsidiaries and associates to the extent that the Company is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that they will not reverse in the foreseeable future; and
- taxable temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for unused tax losses, unused tax credits and deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available, against which they can be used. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised; such reductions are reversed when the probability of future taxable profits improves.

Unrecognized deferred tax assets are reassessed at each reporting date and recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be used.

Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to be applied to temporary differences when they reverse, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

The measurement of deferred tax reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Company expects, at the reporting date, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset only if:

- a) The entity has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities; and
- b) The deferred tax assets and the deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on the same taxable entity.

Deferred tax assets / liabilities in respect of on temporary differences, which originate and reverse during the tax holiday period are not recognised. Deferred tax assets / liabilities in respect of temporary differences that originate during the tax holiday period but reverse after the tax holiday period are recognised.

17. Provisions, Contingent Assets and Contingent Liabilities:

A provision is recognised when the company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event and it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. These are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current management estimates.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows specific to the liability. The unwinding of the discount is recognised as finance cost.

Contingent Liabilities are disclosed in respect of possible obligations that arise from past events, but their existence is confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company.

A contingent asset is a possible asset that arises from past events and whose existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the entity.

Contingent Assets are not recognised till the realization of the income is virtually certain. However, the same are disclosed in the financial statements where an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

18. Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the net profit for the period attributable to the equity shareholders of the Company by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period and for all periods presented is adjusted for events, such as bonus shares, other than the conversion of potential equity shares that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

19. Operating segments

In accordance with Ind AS 108-'Operating segments', the operating segments used to present segment information are identified on the basis of internal reports used by the Company's management to allocate resources to the segments and assess their performance. The Board of Directors is collectively the Company's 'Chief Operating Decision Maker' or 'CODM' within the meaning of Ind AS 108. The indicators used for internal reporting purposes may evolve in connection with performance assessment measures put in place.

20. Material prior period errors

Material prior period errors are corrected retrospectively by restating the comparative amounts for the prior periods presented in which the error occurred. If the error occurred before the earliest period presented, the opening balances of assets, liabilities and equity for the earliest period presented, are restated.

21. Statement of cash flows

Statement of cash flows is prepared in accordance with the indirect method prescribed in Ind AS 7-'Statement of cash flows'.

b) Fair Value Hierarchy

Fair value of the financial instruments is classified in various fair value hierarchies based on the following three levels:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active market for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted price included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e., as prices) or indirectly (i.e., derived from prices).

Level 3: Inputs for the assets or liabilities that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs). If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the fair value is determined using generally accepted pricing models based on a discounted cash flow analysis, with the most significant inputs being the discount rate that reflects the credit risk of counterparty.

The fair value of trade receivables, trade payables, cash and cash equivalents, current borrowings and other current financial assets and liabilities is considered to be equal to the carrying amounts of these items due to their short – term nature.
